THE AUTHOR

Jack Rollin was born in London in 1932 and educated at King's, Harrow. There he played soccer, while later at Westcliff-on-Sea High School it was rugby. Within ten days of joining the Royal Air Force he was playing in a Welsh Cup tie for RAF Bridgnorth and in the services he learned shorthand and typing, resuming his career in journalism and covering the 1954 World Cup in Switzerland in a freelance capacity.

In 1958 an ankle injury ended his own career during which, at the age of 14, he had been offered a trial with the United States club Chicago Maroons. He wisely declined a one-off re-appearance in 1971 against the European cup finalists Panathinaikos of Greece.

For ten years Jack Rollin was Editor of the weekly magazine Soccer Star and its companion monthly World Soccer before becoming a freelance again in 1970. Since then he has researched football for BBC Television, acted as an assistant to commentators on 'Match of the Day', spoken on radio and appeared on television programmes. He has contributed to What's on in London and Radio Times and in 1975 he won the Designers and Art Directors Association Silver Award for Radio Times World Cup Special for the most outstanding specialist feature of the year.

In 1972 he became one of the compilers of the Rothmans Football Yearbook and later became its Editor. He has provided advice on the football sections of the Encyclopaedia Britannica and Guinness Book of Records. He is a football columnist for the Sunday Telegraph.

Jack Rollin contributed to three part-works: The Game (8 vols. 1970); Book of Football (6 vols. 1972) and Football Handbook (1979-80). His articles have appeared in programmes for matches at Wembley Stadium since 1963. He has produced handbooks which include World Soccer Digest 1961, 1962 and 1963 and World Cup Digest 1966.

In 1978 he carried out the international research for the BBC Television Series 'The Game of the Century' and produced the first edition of The Guinness Book of Soccer Facts and Feats.

Other books he has written: England's World Cup Triumph (1966), A Source Book of Football (1971), The History of Aldershot Football Club (1975), World Cup Guide (1982), Soccer at War 1939-45 (1985), Soccer: The Records (1985), Soccer: Records, Facts and Champions (1988), Soccer Shorts (1988) and More Soccer Shorts (1991), The Guinness Record of the World Cup 1930-1994 (1994), The Football Fact Book (1990 and 1993). In 1974 he contributed the South American section for John Moynihan's Football Fever.

The author is married to June and has a daughter Glenda.

FOREWORD

I am delighted to welcome the eighth edition of the Guinness Soccer Who's Who by Jack Rollin. It is certainly on a par with all the quality reference books in the Guinness library and will prove an invaluable help to all administrators, managers, soccer writers and supporters of football throughout the United Kingdom.

It is a difficult task to keep abreast of the changing face of personnel at clubs and Jack Rollin is to be congratulated on achieving this task successfully. There are precise details of professional players in England, Wales and Scotland which can be found by quick and easy alphabetical reference and it provides all the information necessary for a football fact-finder.

The book will occupy a prominent place on my desk and I do not hesitate to recommend it.

Gordon Taylor,

INTRODUCTION

This book features the statistical League careers of all players who made FA Carling Premiership and Endsleigh Insurance League appearances during the 1993–94 season as well as those in the Scottish Premier Division and Falkirk the promoted team from the First Division.

Other players in England who did not appear last season are also included.

Club names in italics indicate temporary transfers where they have not become permanent moves in the same season. Italic figures refer to Colchester United, Lincoln City and Darlington in the GM Vauxhall Conference as well as Aldershot in 1991–92. All appearances include those as substitute.

The Editor would like to thank Alan Elliott for providing details of Scottish League players and also acknowledge the co-operation and assistance of the FA Premier League and Football League in the compilation of this book. In particular Mike Foster of the FA Premier League and Sheila Murphy and Debbie Birch of the Football League.

The Guinness Soccer Who's Who is the only player guide to list the appearances, goals and biographical details of every player in the FA Premier League, Football League and Scottish Premier Division; also included are British players in overseas leagues including Italy's Serie A.

And for fantasy league managers, its season-by-season record of the league goals scored by every player, including defenders and midfielders, is invaluable.
